DSA AWARD WINNER. A sincere, progressive young man of this community was called to the speaker's stand at the annual Jaycee Bosses' Night Tuesday to receive the National Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award. He was Robert O. Wilder, president of the National Forge and Ordnance Co.

Active in civic affairs for many years, he presently is serving Warren as chairman of the Recreation Board, president of the Warren General hospital, and chairman of the Warren County Development Association. He also is chairman of the board of Toulaloo Southern Christian College, and is a member of the board and executive committee of the International Recreation Association.

Mr. Wilder also is active in many other civic projects, and has spearheaded numerous community activities in past years. He is a past recipient of the State TOYM (three outstanding young men) award.

HAROLD E. STASSEN was the distinguished guest and principal speaker at the Jaycee Bosses' Night Tuesday.

For comments on his address, read "The Politics of It" elsewhere in this issue.

40 ET 8 MEMBERS met Tuesday night of this week to draw up final plans for their annual Auto Show to be staged at Beaty cafeteria this Friday and Saturday.

Among those working on the project are (l. to r.) A. R. Stubbs, William F. Johnson, Bob Dietch, Sig Anderson, J. R. Thompson, S. I. Sasserson, Jerry Simpson, chairman Bob Newman, Will Johnson, Ralph Brasington, Floyd Ahlquist, Wab Sechrist, and Don Schuler.

THE JUKE BOX not only controls the choice of records on many stations but now it is about to do the actual playing. WINS New York has installed one of the new automatic machines which holds sixty records, and a press of a button has the station on the air with continuous music for many hours. It saves help and minimizes error.

HIGH WILL BE the costs of bringing baseball broadcasts from the two National league teams now on the Pacific coast. Wire costs will add $1,000 a day to the bill. In addition, the afternoon games may force stations to cancel out already lucrative prime time programs.

But there is one pleasant angle. The evening games will start at 11 o'clock our time, thus removing some of those Class D movie ancients from the screen, and leaving the radio evenings free for good music.

BEST WISHES to all their friends in Warren are sent by the Simcoe Boy Scout Trumpet Band members. The Christmas card, signed by Harold Wheeler, got lost in our holiday mail.

GET ON THE BALL says the Western Pennsylvania Clean Streams Association to industries and communities which have failed to live up to the law by installing sanitary and waste disposal plants. The group will report on its efforts along this line when it meets Sunday in New Kensington. Fred Barr, of Tidioute, is the recording secretary.

ANOTHER SELL-OUT for an attraction appearing in Beaty auditorium was suffered Saturday night when the Barbershoppers held their annual night of harmony. We say "suffered" because they are certain they could have sold another four hundred tickets if there had been seats.

That 1200-seat auditorium which is being denied the public by a few school board members who think an adequate facility isn't worth a mere additional $12,000, would have provided entertainment for many more people. And such is the case with numerous attractions.

WANT TO PLAY GOLF this February? There may still be room in the bus which is taking a trip south to Carolina about the middle of next month. They will play at Pine Needles for a week.

HIGH SCHOOL WRESTLING can be seen Saturday afternoons on Erie's WICU. You might become sufficiently interested to attend the Warren high school matches. This is not the very farcical pro wrestling, but a clean sport, which is a body-builder and has a team-scoring aspect which adds to the interest.

AND READY FOR MORE is Beaty school in the science field. A recent release stated that all freshmen now must take science, and so it has been since 1951. In addition some aspects of science are being introduced into the eighth grade American history and geography course.

Three teachers are handling the science program, and there are six others certified to teach it if necessary. Next question....how many are so sold on the subject that they continue it in high school?

MORE CONFLICTION. Not only do we have the Boy Scout recognition dinner and the Jaycee outstanding young farmer dinner slated for the same night, January 27, but we now have added the county zoning and planning meeting. And on February 27 you must choose between the a capella choir concert and the Warren Players production. Use your Community Calendar!

EVENING CLASSES are being offered area residents through the cooperation of Penn State, the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce. You can register in Warren high school the evenings of January 27 and 28, from 7 to 9. Classes open February 10, and on Monday and Wednesday nights.

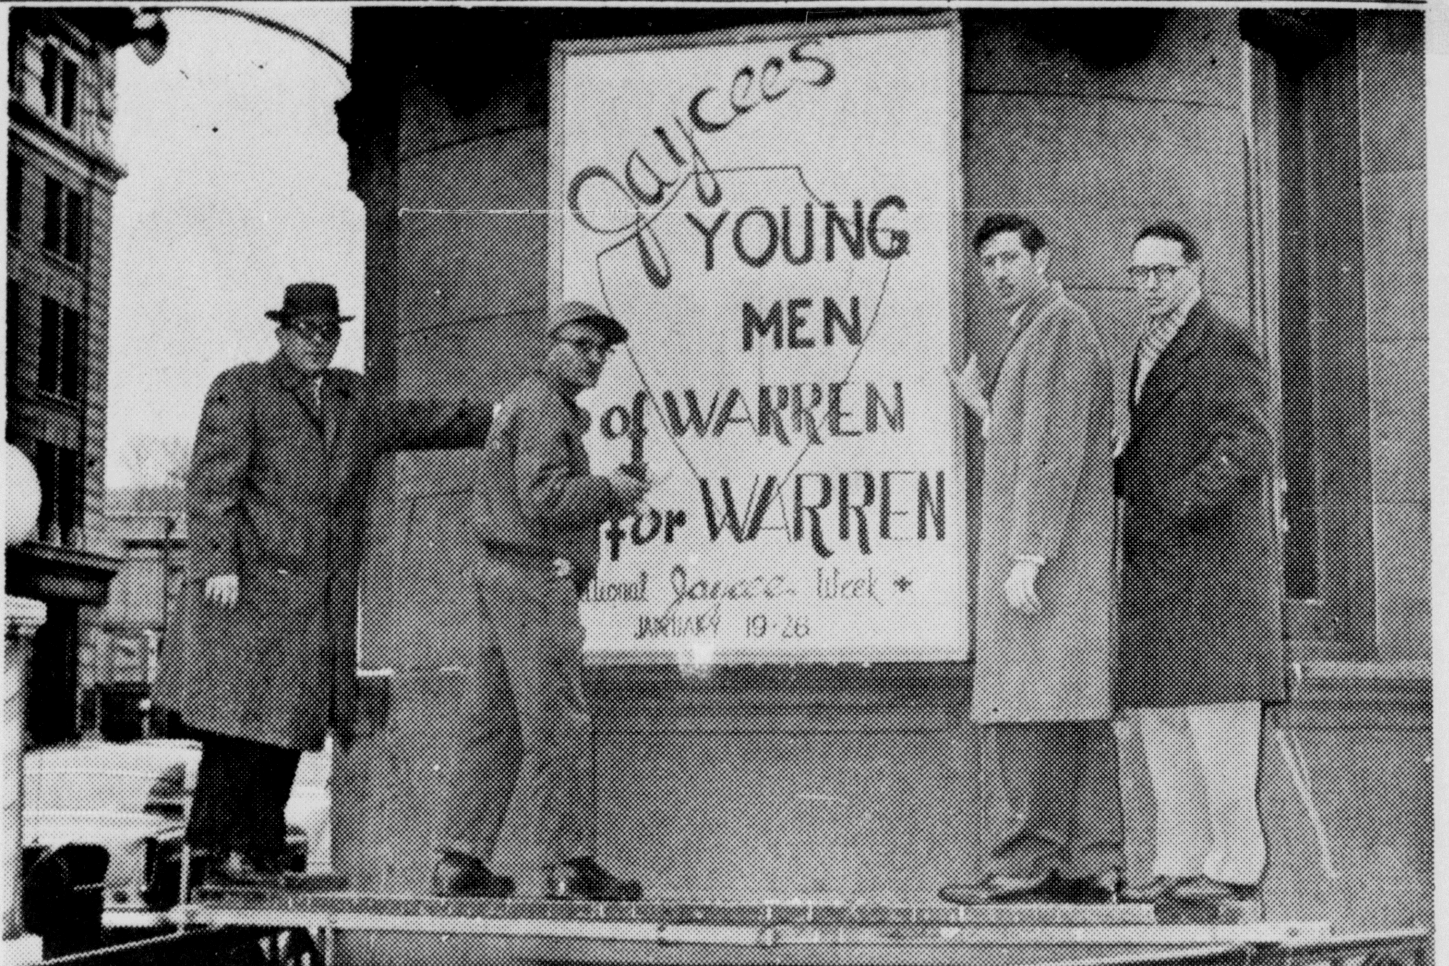

The subjects: History of the United States since 1865, Business Organization and Management, Engineering Drafting I, Technical Writing and Speaking, Direct Current Circuits, Industrial Organization and Management, Industrial Processes, Elementary Mathematics, Algebra, and Fundamentals of Good Speaking.

Call the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce for further information, Warren 470.

AIR DEFENSE PROGRESS is revealed by the discontinuance of Operation Skywatch, and the placing of the ground observer corps on ready reserve. It means the front line no longer is provided by these faithful ones who have scanned the sky on a volunteer basis. We now are screening the skies with radar.

But the reserve will stay in training by having monthly air force exercises. And there also will be a weekly or bi-weekly practice sessions.

DOCTORS MIGHT RESULT if the young men of the area were invited to join the Candy Strippers at the Warren General Hospital. We note an Erie paper carries a story concerning such a program in a California hospital, which includes both boys and girls. Many boys become interested in medicine through this experience. And of course many girls become nurses.

JAYCEE WEEK is being observed in Warren this week. Here committee members (l. to r.) Ken Samara, Warren Bank and Trust Co. custodian Joe Gerarde, Val Condio, and Jaycee chairman A. J. McDonnell erect a sign to mark the occasion.

MANY MORE PETITIONS FOR KINZUA DAM

The activities of Seneca Indian representatives and spokesmen for some Kinzua residents have been given sufficient space in some papers to alarm many in this area who had come to believe that at last they were to have relief from costly floods through the construction of a dam up the river from Warren. The result is an inpouring of additional petitions which urge Washington to continue its plans to build the protective dam.

We have had telephone calls from perturbed proponents of the dam, usually asking what they can do to counteract these efforts to stop its construction. Though we tend to doubt that this normal sentimentality will produce arguments that will change the overall plan to control the Allegheny waters, no harm will be done if you write your senators and congressman and assure them that the majority of their constituents in this area want the dam.

Much of the current reaction is typical of what occurs in most areas when major projects of this nature are planned. Those who will lose their homes and will see familiar acres covered with water are apt to provide the local and popular front for the opposition, an opposition whose major influence usually stems from utility interests. Naturally they prefer to have it appear to be anything but utility dissatisfaction.

The arguments used to support the diversion proposal are obviously unfounded. We are quite certain that if such a plan were to be mapped by the engineers and such a proposal made to congress for its approval, the thousands of people between the Allegheny and Lake Erie who would be inconvenienced by flooded lands, diked towns, and other necessary changes would have even more to say than has been the case with the Indians and Kinzua.

It has been hinted in several articles on the subject that the diversion canal and its six dams could provide electric power. If you can obtain electric power from the storage of water that is obtained by accumulating a fraction of the flood waters, how much more power could you develop by storing all of the flood in one large dam?

It has been estimated by engineers that such a canal would divert 20,000 cubic feet per second. But our flood runs over 75,000 cubic feet per second and flood damage starts at 36,000 cubic feet. Floods would not be completely stopped and damage still would result if we depended on a diversion canal.

Even a large dam would not store enough water to provide a year-round flow sufficient to develop electricity. It would need augmenting by coal and steam. If this is true of the large Kinzua dam, how much more would it be true of a lake filled with but a fraction of our flood waters?

There has been talk of mud-soaked banks. But we hear nothing about the soggy mess which would be left throughout the canal system after the excess flood waters had been run off and had seeped away.

THE REAL PROBLEM

The crux of this matter is not the engineering or the method. The answer will be found in the determination of the Indians' rights. This is a matter which should have been settled years ago when the legislation was first passed and before a sizeable expenditure had been made on tests and studies.

But government officials apparently are convinced that Indian land is no different than that belonging to others. When the best interests of the public are concerned, land can be taken and compensation paid.

However, until the last legal decision has been announced in this case, we, as laymen, will not know what to expect. We only can guess.

It is this layman's opinion that the sovereignty of areas within our national boundaries are no more than a tool in the hands of many who would oppose advancements along lines which might take away powers and benefits to a favored few and to the politicians. We are an expanding and growing nation. And if we are to progress we must set aside the provincial thinking of the horsey days.

MORE PETITIONS

Meanwhile, those who have suffered major losses in past floods, those whose lives have been threatened by the high waters, those who own property in lowlands which has little value until the waters are controlled, and those who want sufficient water in the late summer and early fall to assure a healthy condition along the stream, are continuing to add their names to petitions favoring the dam.

Another batch of these is about to be mailed, and the current agitation stirred by the diversion advocates probably will result in renewed efforts by dam supporters to convince Washington officials that we need and want the best of flood control. So far, the best engineering proposal they have seen is the Kinzua or Cornplanter dam.

TELEVISION BUMPS INTO READING AND RADIO

We do not waste much time watching television and during those weak moments when we sit through several hours of it, out of courtesy or curiosity, we always are puzzled how the public can tolerate such a boring and untasty sequence of tripe. Television apparently is convinced that it must fill every waking hour, and add a few, with pictures of some kind.

ABC is proving our point with a few key programs that are stealing the ratings away from old NBC and CBS steadies. Radio also is proving it by doing a major comeback. Network profits are growing despite television, and the advertising agencies are beginning to demand a reduction in television rates on the basis of less viewers per program, thanks to the growth of ABC attractions and the return of radio.

Sports coverage also is one of our pet peeves with television, though radio is just as bad and many area newspapers which puff their coverage with loud solicitor voices fail to provide us with really late news. During the match game bowling championship which was concluded Sunday night, many radio and television programs failed to give you a daily report of the developments.

This tournament can be compared with the open in golf, the world series in baseball, the Davis Cup in tennis, and the bowl games in football. Yet our sports announcers and writers went to sleep. One television sports announcer spent a share of his program showing wrestling film in which two men used another as a battering ram to butt a fourth in the stomach. Real sportsmanship! But the leading bowling tournament of the year went unreported.

Not long ago we attempted to watch a late movie on television. In one half hour there were at least four commercial breaks, and in each one we watched two commercials. The show was good, but not that good. We went to bed, and the sponsors burned themselves out of a customer.

We suggest that television could stave off the counter-attack of radio if it would get over the idea that it has to soap opera its screen from morning to night. Why not some good music during the middle hours of morning and afternoon when work is the prime prerequisite of most viewers? In this way they would not lose the viewers who could keep tuned in while doing their work instead of dialing in radio for that accommodation.

Quality programs in less hours of programming would have a much better chance of holding the audience. And there might be less fear of pay television, the answer to which is simple enough. If the public wants pay tv it should have it.

If we believe in competition as we boast so loudly, why not compete? We are sure that commercials would change radically if good movies were pipled into our homes to compete with the so-called "free" entertainment through which we suffer today.

ENTER READING

Those who can find a quiet room are good prospects for the future of reading. It is amazing that reading has held up at all and the circulation figures of our major magazine and newspapers are an encouraging sign.

Some have suggested that library service should not be provided in the county because people are not reading as much as they did. We can think of no better reason for free libraries. If they were important in the past for the purpose of encouraging reading, why are they not even more important today?

We also have been told that some want the Warren library to super-vise the county service. This would be a mistake, and anyone can easily find out why by studying the annual reports of the librarians. They reveal every year that the Warren library lacks money and staff even to do an adequate job for its own community. Adding $10,000 to its $41,000 budget for the purpose of serving three times as many people would not be practical.

A county library should be operated by a board of its own, and it should be a board completely independent of the Warren organization. Cooperation between the two services would, of course, be an asset for all concerned.

Reading is a major part of education, both during school and in post-school life. The only way we can compete with comic books, television, and other distractions for the minds of our citizens is by making good books available, and in a way that will encourage their use. That is best done by a public free library, operated by personnel fully trained for a major responsibility of this nature.

AND THE PRESS

Meanwhile the press finds itself being pushed a bit. Not only is it competing with many other mediums, but it also is having cost problems. Newspapers may go to fifteen cents if costs continue to climb, and when you compare a metropolitan daily with magazines you find that in twenty-four hours it is providing more reading, features, and pictures than most magazines do in a week or in a month.

Electronics and photography are playing a growing part in the equipment that is being designed to publish tomorrow's paper. Du Pont now has a special research department which is experimenting with new methods of printing. The unwieldy stereotype is very close to being obsolete, and the setting of type by line-casting machines already is lugubriously show by comparison with electric machines which can produce fifteen lines a minute.

New presses, new plates, and new composing machines will revolutionize the newspaper business in the next five or ten years. Those now equipped with letterpress machinery will be forced to spend much, either for adaptation or for replacements. The race to reach people's minds is zooming.

In Brief

THE COMPENSATION RATE for Warren county's treasurer has been established by Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. at the request of the current office holder, Robert L. Ritchie. He will receive 1 1/4 per cent of receipts, 1 1/4 per cent of expenditures, and 1/2 of one per cent of expenditures for the assessing job that now is being done. The 1957 budget would yield him about $16,300.

The net earnings of the treasurer under this set-up probably will range about $13,000, after he has paid his help a little over $5,000 and has received approximately $3,200 in compensation from the state.

In reaching his decision, Judge Flick said, "The record before the court shows not the slightest criticism of the manner in which the business of the treasurer's office is performed. Mr. Ritchie is fortunate in having as his employees two persons who, from long experience, are as capable and well qualified as any who ever served the public in the office of county treasurer in this commonwealth or elsewhere.

"The record also shows that the county commissioners and the county auditors are conscientiously seeking to fulfill the duties of the respective offices to which they have been elected by the people of Warren county. The testimony of Mr. Crippen and the exhibits placed in evidence by the county solicitor show the serious concern given to the matter of the county treasurer's compensation.

"The court hopes that the study of the record, as shown in this opinion, may be of some help when these county officers are confronted with the same problems in the future."

The difference between the compensation ordered by the court and that proposed by the commissioners is the lack of a ceiling. The commissioners proposed the same percentage, but suggested that after the figure reached $11,000 the fee should change to 1/4 of one per cent.

PROMOTED. Marion E. Pettegrew, of Warren, has been elected to the position of senior vice president of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc. A vice president since 1956, he is one of eight promoted to the newly-created position.

STRIKE OVER. A general hourly wage increase of 10 cents along with other fringe benefits was accepted by UE Local 633 members Monday to end the strike that had been going on at DeLuxe Metal Furniture Co. since January 14. The union had asked for a 15 cent an hour increase.

The new contract agreement expires April 1, 1959.

Pickets at the plant were removed last Saturday and the union members reported to work again Monday while negotiations continued. Operations at the plant stopped on January 14 when company officials asked the employees to leave if "work stoppages" were to continue. The union called it a "lock-out".

MEN IN SERVICE. Charles L. Cassell, fireman apprentice, USN, returned last month to Newport, R.I., aboard the destroyer USS Keppler after nearly five months in the Mediterranean and Middle East.

AROUND TOWN. Jack W. Skinner, of DuBois, has been transferred to Warren as plant engineering technician for the Bell Telephone Co.... Three Warren bankers, Edward A. Ryberg of Warren Bank and Trust Co., and G. A. Huber and J. C. Torrance of Warren National Bank, attended the Pennsylvania Bankers Association 1958 Bank Operations

Clinic in Philadelphia this week.... New officers of the Warren State Hospital chapter of the Pennsylvania Psychiatric Technicians' Association are president Gregg Borger, vice president Sherman McKown, secretary-treasurer Robert Simpson, and trustee John Piehuta.

President Fran Lewis, of Loblaws, and secretary Martha R. Rood, of the A & P, will be inducted as officers of the local Meat Cutters, Butcher Workmen and Affiliated Crafts of North American union on January 26.... Veteran scoutmaster Byron Knapp has been named a representative to the National Council of Boy Scouts of America, filling the unexpired term of Carl Rogers who died recently.

ACTIVITY going on in the Woolworth building, which was vacated the latter part of December, is merely a cleaning up project. Plans are formulating, however, for dividing the first floor of the building into two parts.

The Berament Realty firm of New York City is handling the building through a local agent.

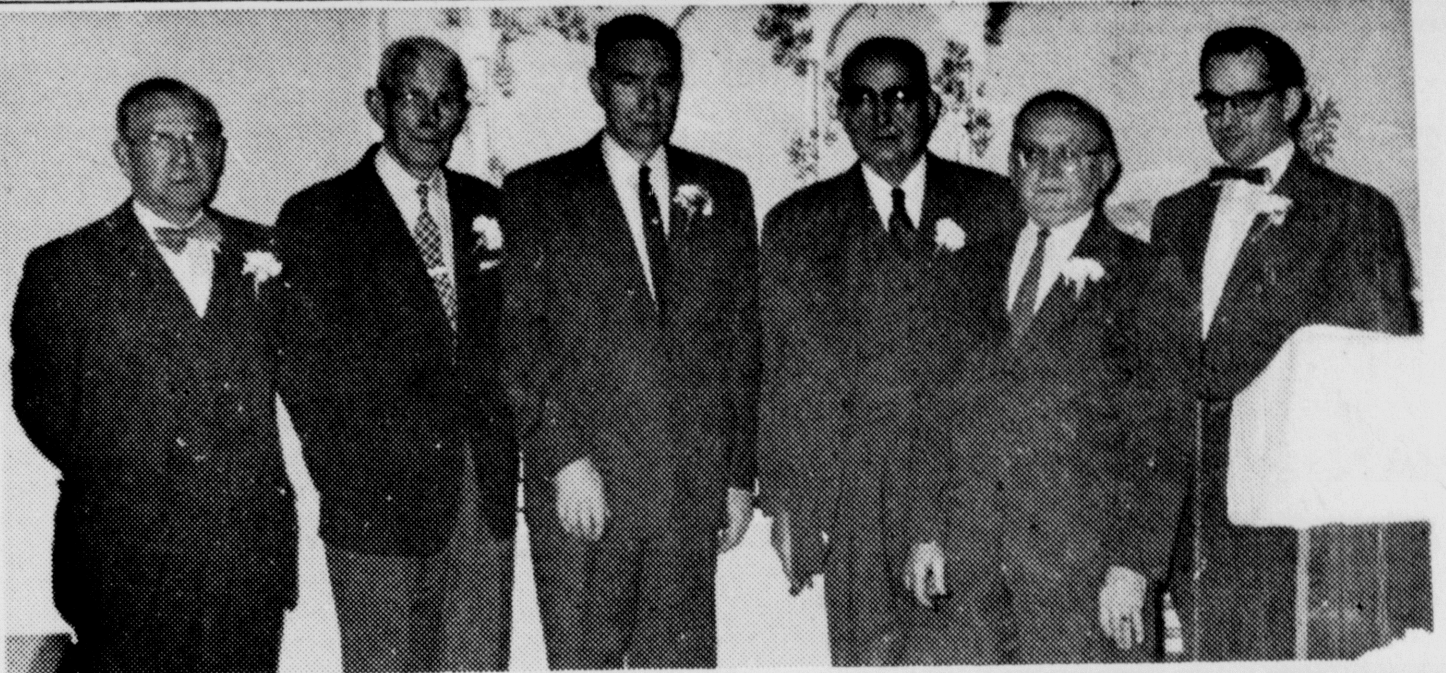

THE WARREN COUNTY COURT Tuesday and Wednesday of this week granted the following divorces: Viola M. Bacon vs. Charles R. Bacon, Goldie E. Shaffer vs. Howard A. Shaffer, Hattie M. Wynn vs. Alton L. Wynn, Patricia K. Dodge vs. Merle M. Dodge, Malcolm L. Howell vs. Mabel P. Howell, Donald E. Dishinger vs. Elizabeth Dishinger, Violet E. Carlson vs. Glenn W. Carlson, Nellie M. Atwell vs. Melvin R. Atwell, Ann E. Hoffman vs. J. Kenneth Hoffman, June B. Henton vs. Edwin E. Henton.

FOUR PERSONS required treatment for minor injuries following a two-car collision that occurred at 9:20 a.m. Wednesday on the Lovers' Lane rd. There cars operated by John Lefik, Jr., 26, Irvine, and Raymond Rickerson, 38, Russell, met on a narrow bridge.

Suffering from lacerations and bruises were Lefik, Lorette Lefik, 19, both of the same address; Shirley Hunt, 22, and Cheryl Hunt, 1, of 900 Pennsylvania ave., E. All were riding in the same auto.

Damage to the cars was estimated at $800.

A $2,000 CONTRIBUTION from Sidney Wetmore Davidson, of New York City, has been accepted by the Warren Library Association for its endowment funds. The gift is a memorial for Mrs. Davidson's mother, Carolin Wetmore Hiles.

PRE-HOLIDAY HIRING by retail and wholesale trade groups resulted in an upward trend in employment in Warren during November and December. A decline in the mercantile group has followed as expected.

There was about a one and one-half per cent drop in factories during the 60-day period.

Jobless insurance rolls have more than doubled since October with a total of 602. As of the first week in December there were 414 persons receiving benefits compared with 263 and 290 during 1956 and 1955 respectively.

A NEW GAS conversion furnace and refurbishing project in the locker and shower rooms was approved for the YMCA when the directors and trustees met in a joint session this week.

THE COMMUNITY AMBASSADOR project will again be sponsored by the Jaycees with James Fales as chairman.

This program enables a young man or woman to travel for six weeks to any country of his choosing, providing he or she is a resident of Warren County, single, and between the ages of 16 and 30 years inclusive.

Names should be submitted to Community Ambassador Project, Box 147, Warren.

ABOUT $250 DAMAGE was caused at 7:13 a.m. Tuesday when Robert Anderson, R.D. 1, Warren, attempted to pass Ernest D. Huber, 1704 Pennsylvania ave., E., as the latter started to enter a parking space in the 1700 block of Pennsylvania ave., E.

County officials and the public are invited to attend.

Pentagon Investigation May Spawn A President

By Doris Fleeson

WASHINGTON. -- Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy today stands on a splendid but peculiarly isolated eminence. The chances are overwhelming that he will within a relatively short time be a discredited man or a potential candidate for President.

President Eisenhower at his press conference virtually shifted to McElroy the responsibility for carrying out the President's own stern demands for a reorganization of the Pentagon. Congress is determined to have that and a new vision of space-age weapons and security as well.

Congress began with a favorable impression of the new Secretary. It did not respond warmly to his present decision to appoint a committee to help him -- a technique so frequently employed here in the last few years with inconsiderable results that it has spawned a whole new race of cynics.

While the first members of McElroy's committee are well regarded -- they are the first three chairmen of the Joint Chiefs of staff -- they are, in effect, being asked to investigate themselves. This fashion in probes rarely produces answers unfavorable to existing institutions.

McElroy's authority to make drastic changes at the Pentagon is moot. He will have to borrow the President's power and he will have to justify himself to Congress.

This week the Secretary breakfasted with Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Senate Armed Services Committee in an apparent effort to get some idea of the score there. Russell in effect promised him that he'd get the tools but he must get on with the job.

Russell can also be depended upon not to attempt to substitute for the executive branch. He simply doesn't think Congress can run that end of the government and ought not to try. This fact McElroy can put among his assets, for Russell is the grey eminence of the predominantly Southern leadership of the Senate.

What the Secretary can expect is unrelenting Congressional pressure on him for decisions of every kind. Congress does not intend to go back on the hustings next fall without plenty of evidence that it built a fire under the Pentagon to make it straighten out its affairs and overtake the Russians. This is a simple matter of the members' own survival; if friendly politicians have not made that perfectly plain to McElroy, they should certainly do so.

McElroy's greatest test will come when the teams of scientists working under Dr. James Killian, the President's scientific adviser, bring back the fruits of their travels among the nation's biggest laboratories and missile factories. The scientists were assigned a double task: To find out how to catch up to the Russians right now and discover what weapons are in prospect with which they can be surpassed.

It is almost a foregone conclusion that what they report will mean the spending of a great deal of money and demand prodigious risk-taking. At that point, Dr. Killian and McElroy face the job of interpreting the report to the President and charting the necessary next steps. Incidentally, Congressional contacts are quite sufficient to ascertain, as they did with the Gaither report, what the scientists will have to say.

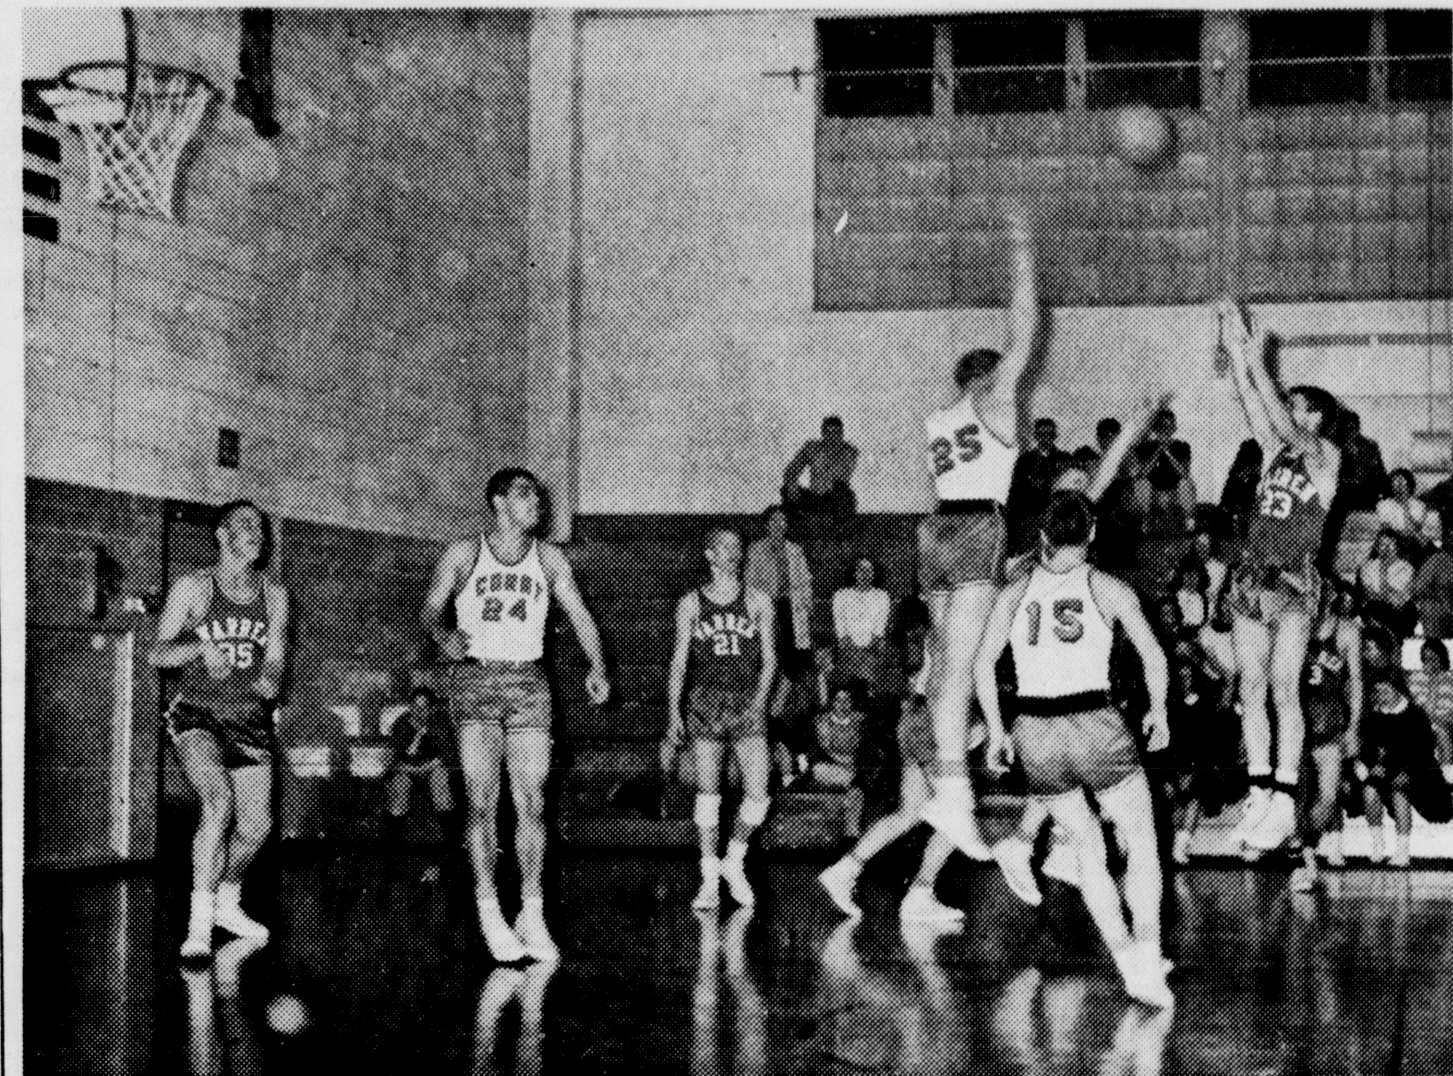

UNDERGOING BOOT CAMP with the U.S. Navy at Great Lakes, Ill., are Thomas A. Shafer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle E. Shafer, 344 E. Fifth st., Warren; James D. Darts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Darts, Route 1, Russell; and David G. Fay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam G. Loomis, 19 Orchard st., Warren.

All are scheduled to graduate January 25th.

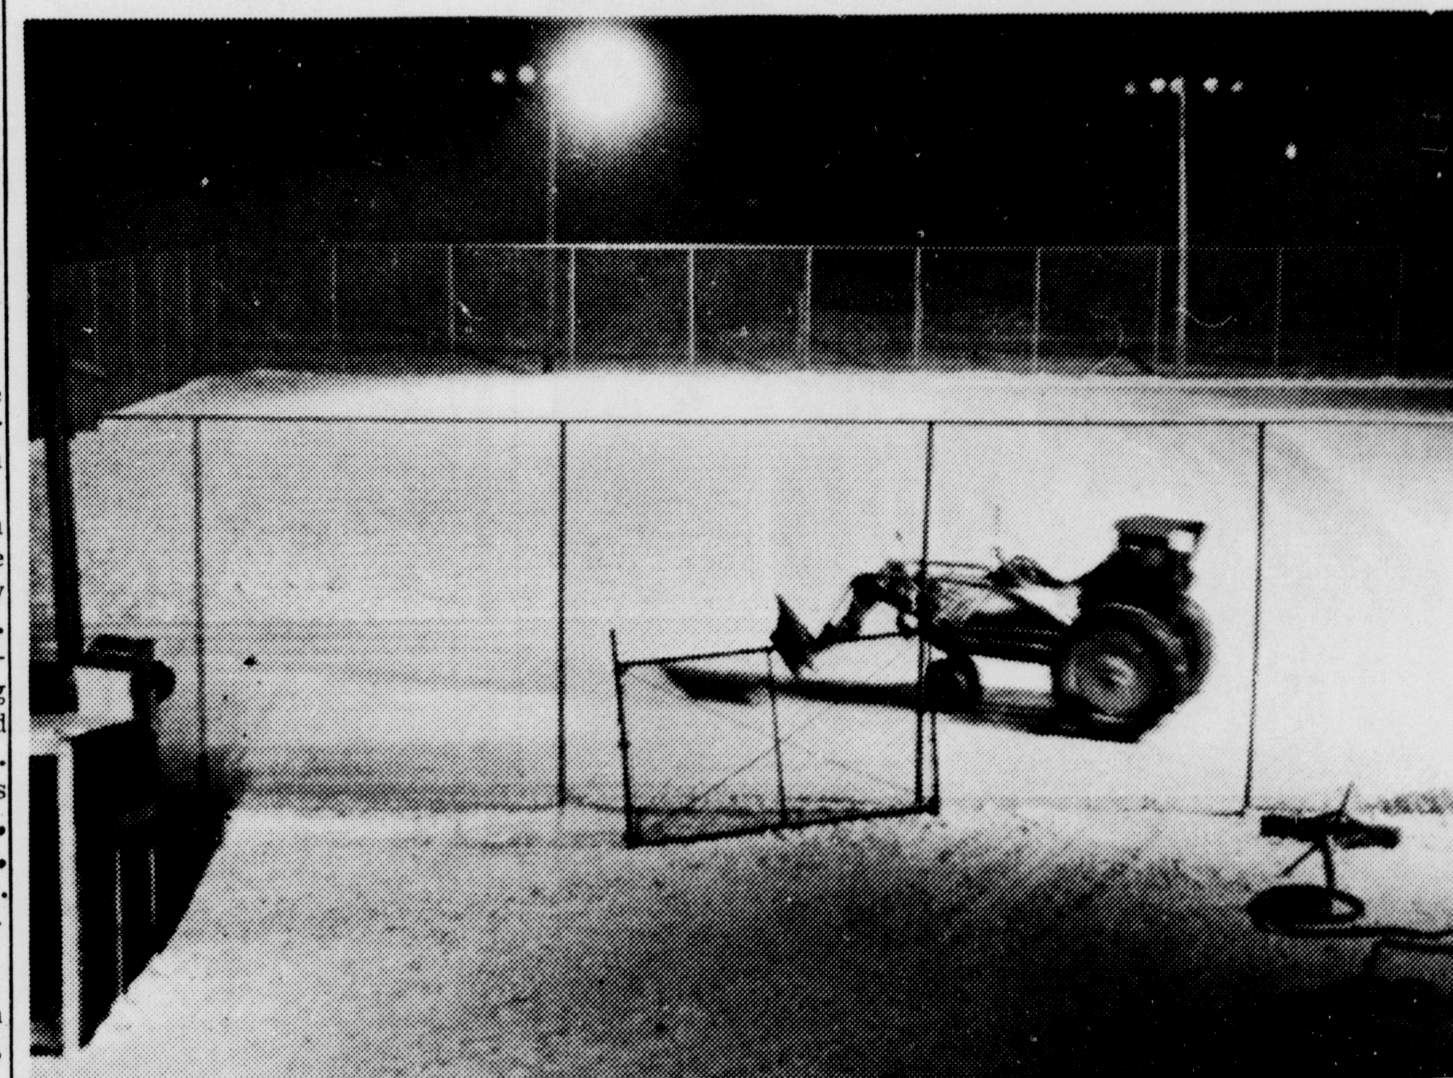

G. G. GREENE's squad took second place honors in the first half Y-City loop play. The team is made up of (l. to r.) kneeling -- Len Blauser, Steve Lindquist, and Jack Donaldson; standing -- Dave Bathurst, Bob Schenck, coach Tony Tomassoni, Bob Reese and Doug Hetrick.

YOUNG NICKY CREOLA in a jump shot effort against Corry, a team the Dragons beat 56-49 last Friday night in Section Two play.

COOL, MAN. Keeping the Warren ice rink in good shape for the next day's fun is not a job that strains the sweating properties of a man's skin. The rink must be cleared of snow or the loose ice powder that results from hours of subjection to cutting blades. Then comes the hosing. Here we see the first operation, and the man at the controls has overcome some of the hazards with an enclosed cab. Of such all-night labor is born that which keeps young legs strong and lungs enlivened. And some not so young.

TE LA DI O

NO BASEBALL FAMINE
ON TV NEXT SEASON

Baseball fans will have a full fare this coming season with several major league teams setting a record in the number of games to be televised, at home and on the road. The New York Yankees have announced a minimum of 140 games, seventy-seven at home and sixty-three road contests. Last year, only ten Yankee road games were televised. It is estimated the club will be on the air more than 400 hours, with games scheduled for every Saturday and Sunday.

The Philadelphia Phillies are preparing a seventy-nine game schedule, twenty of which will be road games.

Efforts are being made to work out arrangements to broadcast home games of the Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants, although these contests would not go on the air here until about 11 p. m.

The Pittsburgh Pirates will have a minimum of 24 games televised and for the first time a number of away-from-home night games will be available on KDKA-TV.

ANOTHER POLL

Top honors have been announced in the recent Radio-Television Daily's 16th annual "All American Poll" in which your Teladio editor was invited to participate. We scored a little higher, or should we say the choices agreed with ours, in more instances than in the Look Awards poll.

These are the top honors, and the way we scored them: Man of the Year, Jack Paar; Woman of the Year, Dinah Shore; Dramatic Show of the Year, Green Pastures; Comedy Show of the Year, Tonight; Musical Show of the Year, Annie Get Your Gun; Commentator of the Year, Edward Murrow (we said Walter Cronkite); Documentary of the Year, Project 20 (our choice was Wide World); Quiz Show of the Year, Twenty One (our preference was Price Is Right); Best New Program Idea, Seven Lively Arts; Sports-caster of the Year, Mel Allen; Color Program of the Year, Annie Get Your Gun (we weren't qualified to say as all our viewing is in black-and-white); Best Filmed Series, Disneyland; Children's Show of Year, Pinocchio; Western Show of the Year, tie between Wagon Train and Gunsmoke (we chose Gunsmoke as Chester is one of our TV favorites); Best Public Service Programming, Face the Nation-Krushchev (we voted for the NBC educational series); Producer of the Year, Martin Manulis; Director of Year, George Schaefer; Variety Show of Year, Steve Allen (we went down with Ed Sullivan); Vocalist of the Year, Perry Como; Female Vocalist of Year, Dinah Shore; Song Hit of the Year, Around the World in 80 Days; Most Promising New Talent, James Garner (we named Raymond Burr); Most Promising New Talent, Female, Polly Bergen (we liked Dody Goodman).

The poll also included similar choices for radio for which we didn't vote as our radio listening is necessarily limited to news broadcasts and background music while we work.

It is interesting to note that NBC won 16 of the 22 honors; CBS nailed five (one a tie with NBC) and ABC had two winners.

*NBC also won the lion's share of the Sylvania Awards.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

SID CAESAR, with Imogene Coca, begins a new series on ABC-TV at 9 p. m. Sunday. The half-hour program is entitled "Sid Caesar Invites You".

GARY MOORE may be presented by the CBS network next season as the star of a one-hour evening variety show.

MICKEY SPILLANE's Mike Hammer, a new CBS-TV series, makes its debut in the New York area next week. We predict it will be picked up by TV stations serving this region before many moons.

THE LONE RANGER will celebrate his 25th anniversary of the highly successful western series in a special hour-long program Saturday afternoon, February 1 at 1 p. m. Channel 4 will carry it.

The next YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONCERT will be Saturday, February 1 at 12 noon on CBS-TV.

MEET THE PRESS will interview

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, head of the Army's ballistic missile agency, on February 9. Head of the Air Force's ballistic missile division, Maj. Gen. Schriever, was interviewed last Sunday.

MR. WIZARD, on NBC-TV Sundays at 1 p. m., has an interesting February schedule. On successive Sundays, Don Herbert (Mr. Wizard) will explore these subjects: February 2, Weather; February 9, Surface Tension (did you know that water has a "skin"?); February 16, Astronomy; February 23, Lenses.

SEA HUNT, a dramatic and exciting (so they say) underwater action series debuts Friday night at 6:30 on KDKA-TV. Lloyd Bridges portrays Mike Nelson, ex-Navy frogman.

SPORTS

BOXING - Joe Brown, of New Orleans, world's lightweight champion, will go 10 rounds in a non-title bout with Ernie Williams, of Washington, D. C., at the New Capitol Arena in Washington at 10 p. m. Friday night. This will be seen on NBC-TV's Cavalcade of Sports. Immediately following the fight, a sports commentary program called "NBC Sports Spot", replaces the former "Red Barber's Corner". Carmen Basilio will be the interview guest.

BASKETBALL - The NBA pro game on NBC-TV Saturday afternoon at 2:00 will be between the New York Knickerbockers and the Minneapolis Lakers at the 69th Regiment Armory in New York.

HOCKEY - The Detroit Red Wings meet the Boston Bruins at 2 p. m. Saturday at Boston Garden, Boston, Mass.

RACING From Hialeah at 4:30 to 5 p. m. will be seen on WBUF Saturday. The one and one-eighth mile for three-year olds and up will be run, with a $25,000 added purse. Some of the favorites will be Iron Liege, Fabius, Gray Phantom, Hoop Band and Kingmaker.

OTHER SPORTS - Check your TV schedule in the Observer for weekly events such as wrestling, boxing, golf and bowling.

SPECIAL! Sam Snead, "king of modern golf's Old Guard", will be interviewed by Martin Agronsky on LOOK HERE Sunday at 3:30 on NBC. During the interview, Snead will demonstrate his golfing technique at the golf course of the Boca Raton (Fla.) Club.

40 ET 8 ANNUAL AUTO SHOW

JANUARY 24th and 25th

FRIDAY 7 P.M. To 10 P.M.

BEATY CAFETERIA

Saturday 2 P.M. To 10 P.M.

BUYERS' CORNER

LOOK AND COMPARE

Warren's annual auto show opens Friday in Beaty cafeteria, and lasts until ten Friday evening, with antiquarian, foreign, and home-grown moderns lined up for comparative purposes. The opening hours are seven on Friday and two on Saturday.

Sponsoring the show again is the 40 et 8 which uses the profits for its program of child and veteran welfare work. Special awards and a grand prize are added incentives for attendance.

You also can take a psychophysical driving test at no cost, if you wish to take advantage of the portoclinic which will be presented by the Warren County Motor Club. This could be designed to save you money. If you shouldn't be driving, don't buy one.

Most of the popular makes will be on the floor. We have been unable to obtain any advance publicity in this respect, but we can predict a few of the models you will see.

Chevrolet will have a convertible glistening under the lights, and spring suddenly will burst loose and stay with you until exit time.

Ford will make life easy and really sporty with a retractable. The hard top which can be changed into the most stream-lined of convertibles with no more than the pull of a knob. And back into a hard top with a push of the same knob.

Studebaker will have its four-door President, and here is a car with some very rare features for these days when features that are rare, are. The one we like best is the rear wheel drive which gets you off of ice or out of the mud as long as one wheel has traction.

The only company to rise to the challenge of the foreign cars, American Motors, also will present its answer in the form of a Rambler. This is the American model and it offers 100 inches of wheel base, more room than most foreign makes, the comforts to which we are accustomed, and economy of price and operation that will match most of the invaders. It is one of the very few small cars in which you can have automatic transmission installed.

The Rambler American has one other very strong point in its favor. With cars rusting out all around us, it comes up with a no-rust guarantee. It also provides you with a do-it-yourself manual so that you can do much of the repair work yourself.

Other than that we can't tell you much about any models that will be seen. We do know there will be a Buick, Dodge, Plymouth, Oldsmobile, an Imperial or a Chrysler, and maybe a Pontiac or a Cadillac. But what they have to offer for comparison and as an incentive to your checkbook you must discover for yourself.

Also on the floor will be at least two foreign cars, provided by the Keystone Garage. These will be the new Hillman 4-door station wagon, the first importation of this kind, and the Hillman deluxe sedan with the shift lever on the steering wheel and full seats. The Hillman has come far since the day fifty years ago when it was built for the four cylinder Isle of Man race.

And out of the past will roll a Fancy Dan of yore. A Locomobile, belonging to William Crossett. Refurbished and polished it will give you an idea of what the cars with class offered back when "out of gas" still was fooling a few.

But we don't need to tease you. Auto shows today are much like the horse show of yesterday. It is a motoring age, such shows provide a means of doing what all wise buyers should. See them . . . and compare.

$50,000 FOR INDUSTRIAL ART

The third annual industrial arts fair for twenty counties in western Pennsylvania will be held next May, 5 to 17, and eligible for entry are junior and senior high school students who have shop work which might compare well with others.

The show is held on the eleventh floor of Kaufman's, with that store and the Ford Motor Company co-sponsoring. The winners will go on to the big show in Dearborn and a chance to win a share of the $50,000 in prizes.

The POLITICS OF IT

THE POLITICAL BID of Harold Stassen, who wants to be governor of Pennsylvania, was made at the bosses night dinner of the Jaycees, Tuesday. He made friends with big business by proposing a reduction of the "tax burden" borne by the manufacturers. (And that is the tune the Republican machine in Pennsylvania loves the most.)

He also appealed to labor by suggesting that if the taxes on manufacturers were lowered, business would be better and there would be more wages. (But he neglected to say that if the taxes were removed from the manufacturers it is obvious who would pay the bill.)

He suggested that a means of making full use of the talents of promising young men and women would be the establishment of seven major scientific and technical high schools, three in the east, two in the center, and two in the west. There would be bus service for those nearby and dormitories for those remote.

And most important, said Mr. Stassen, Pennsylvanians should get behind "our great President Dwight Eisenhower" by sending him an "unprecedented" Pennsylvania Declaration of Support for the President's Efforts for Peace, signed by members of both parties and delivered at his Gettysburg home on the Fourth of July.

... "America should thrive on competition. America will thrive on competition if we fortrightly face the facts and apply the energies and abilities of our people to meet the problems."

It was a talk flavored with patriotism and diplomatically politic, and should have made most any solid Republican who heard it very happy ... maybe even the "right" Republicans.

As for the independents, the man said that with alert and intelligent action America will win. And few of us can quarrel with that.

But can Harold Stassen win?

USELESS. . . . and helpless in its beautiful wrapping of snow and its load of ice is the swimming pool. It won't sufficiently recover from this attack of winter to be of much use before Memorial Day.
It can't even be used for skating for fear its walls might crack.

A curious one has tracked to the fence and peered at the small area which provides so much pleasure but for so few days. This is the country club pool, and as such serves its purpose well. But a public pool for the community would be of much greater value if it were made a part of the school and enclosed for winter use. One of two walls could be moved away for hot summer days. The result would be 365 days of swimming instead of the average sixty for outdoor pools in this climate.

ART TALENT SHOW

The eleventh annual Woman's Club art talent show now is being planned by a committee of which Mrs. Robert Israel and Mrs. Clare Crary are the co-chairmen. The show will be held May 22 through May 28, with
May 22 as the entry deadling.

Entries are limited to original subjects, the rules specifying they must not be copies, either of photographs or paintings. Awards will be made for oil paintings, watercolors, which include pastels, and graphics which range from pen and ink through pencil or charcoal drawings, etch-ings, lithographs, or woodblock and linoleum block prints.

The show is open to amateurs only, and there is no charge, either for entrants or the general public.
Annually the results have improved until much of the work today is of sufficient excellence to be worthy of room in a national show.

Joins Lund Orchestra For WBEN Broadcasts

BETH HARMON, dynamic young singer who's appeared with such orchestras as Tony Pastor's and Warren Compton's at supper clubs across the nation, recently joined Parker Lund and his Orchestra as featured vocalist. Miss Harmon will be heard with the orchestra each Saturday night at 8:05 when WBEN broadcasts dance music "live" from the Hotel Statler's Rendezvous.

PRAIRIE FLING—Dancing to the pipers is winsome Jeannie Carson, guest-starring in the title role of "The Annie MacGregor Story," drama of a Scots clanswoman who falls in love with an "outsider" on NBC-TV's "Wagon Train" Wednesday, Feb. 5. The bagpipers accompanying her "prairie" fling are fellow cast members Fred Wayne (left) and Chester Stratton.

SILVER SKATERS—Film star Tab Hunter (right) will display his championship form as an ice skater on NBC-TV in the title role of "Hans Brinker or The Silver Skates," to be colorcast on "Hallmark Hall of Fame" Sunday, Feb. 9. Starred with him in this musical adaptation of Mary Mapes Dodge's classic story will be Peggy King and Dick Button, former world and Olympic skating champion. Tab has been a regional winner in national skating competitions.

Beauty Quizzed in Bar Robbery on The Lineup

Inspector Fred Asher (Marshall Reed) is particularly skeptical of Lisa Gaye's explanation about a bar robbery, in which he suspects she has more than casual knowledge, in "Hot Shot Robbery Case," on The Lineup Friday night, Jan. 24, at 10 o'clock over WBEN-TV.

MUSIC MAKER — Gisele MacKenzie — comedienne, violinist and singer — is star of her own Saturday night show on NBC-TV. Guest stars join her in songs and comedy sketches.

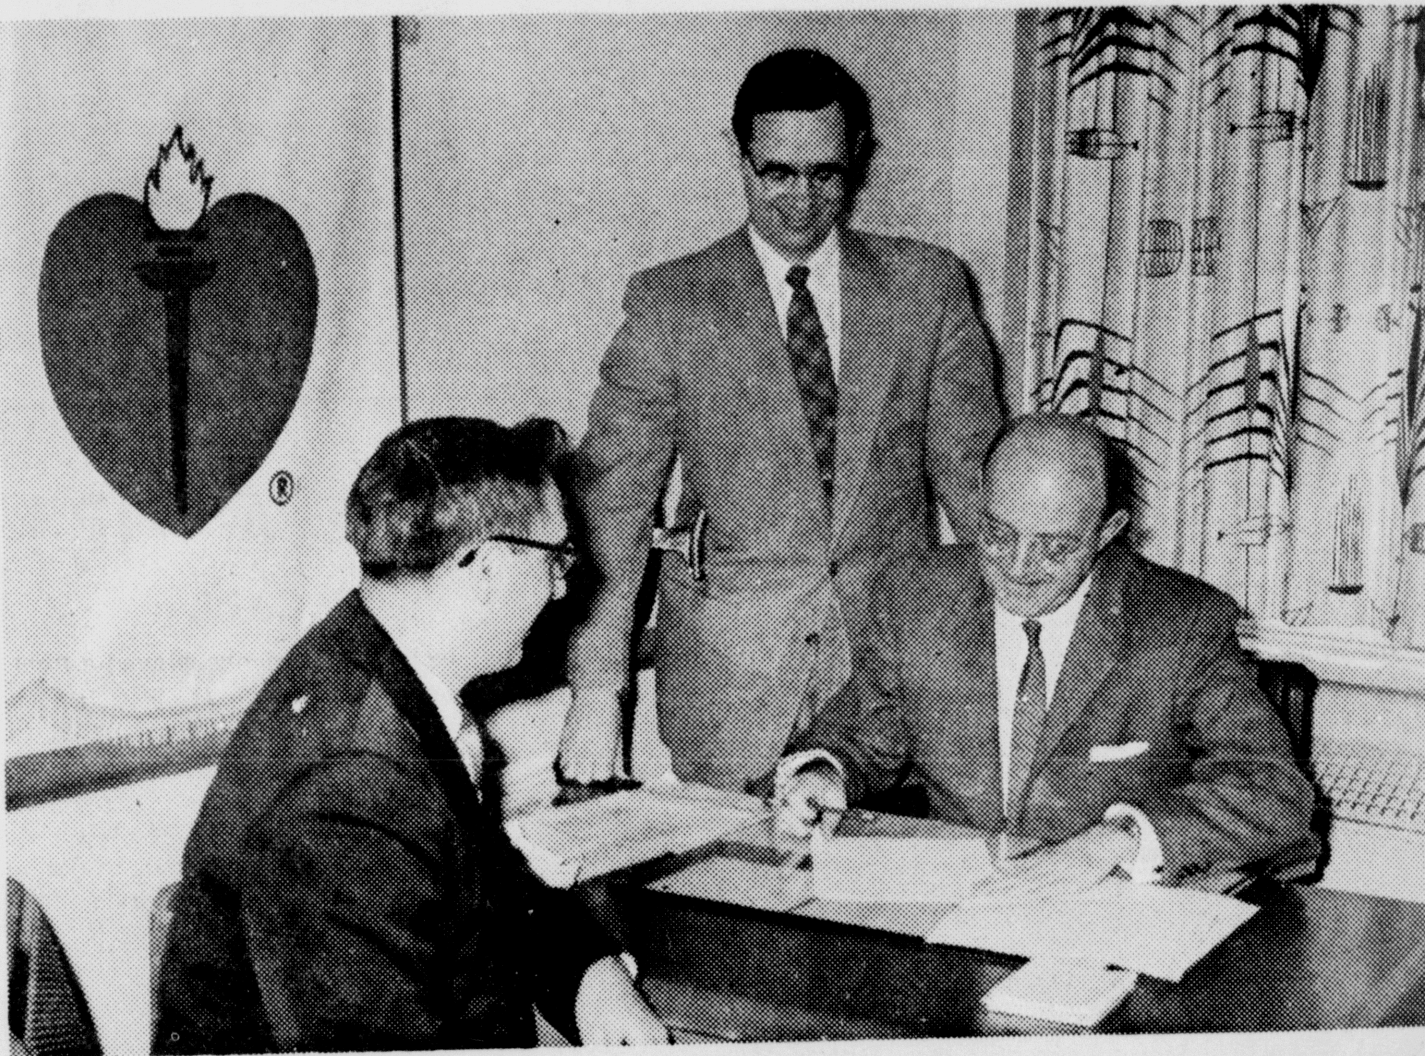

JUST DESSERT — Tennessee Ernie Ford surprises Tommy Sands with an anniversary cake as the young singer visits Ernie for "The Ford Show" telecast Thursday, Jan. 30 on NBC. It will mark one year since Sands achieved nationwide recognition for his performance in the "Kraft Television Theatre" presentation of "The Singin' Idol."

Paul Newman as a college football hero encounters resistance from his sweetheart, Joanne Woodward, in CBS Television's Playhouse 90 production of "Eighty-Yard Run" Thursday night, Jan. 16, at 9:30. The 90-minute drama on WBEN-TV deals with a big man on the campus who can't adjust to reality after he leaves school and his sports triumphs.

CHERRY PIE baking contest winner at Warren high school is Sally Daley (r.). She is pictured with (l. to r.) Mrs. Robert Whitehill, her instructor; Dr. Carl E. Whipple, Mrs. Ruth Randinelli and Mrs. Donald McComas, the judges; and Norma Hackman, runner-up. Miss Daley will now compete for county honors on January 30.

FEBRUARY has been proclaimed by Burgess William E. Rice as Heart Month, a period during which the Warren County Heart Association will conduct its 1958 fund drive to support a year-round program of research, education and community service.

STYLE SHOP WINS TWICE

The Style Shop chalked up two wins in games played last week end. On Saturday night they walloped the St. Marys Legion, 101 to 74, on the Armory floor. Hud Berdine threw in 21 points and Dave Berdine, 19 points for the Stylers.

On Sunday afternoon at Dunkirk, the Shoppers dumped a Dunkirk five, 65 to 43. Hud Berdine netted 14 points and John Berdine and Ed Lindberg hit for 13 points each for the winners.

BEATY BASKETBALL

Two league losses during the week dropped the Beaty cagers from a tie for first place to third spot in the seven team Chadakoin junior high school basketball circuit. Their league record is now 2 wins and 2 losses.

Defending champion Washington of Jamestown took advantage of a bad second quarter on the part of Beaty and took them 58 to 45. Roland Poust with 18 and Ron Schneider with 11 were the top Beaty scorers.

Jefferson of Jamestown held Beaty in check during the first half with a tough defense and downed the junior high five, 48 to 35. The Beaty five used a fast break in the second half but could not overcome the Jefferson lead. Jerry Wilson scored 10 points for Beaty.

In a non-league tilt, Bradford junior high whipped Beaty, 33 to 25. Poust was high man for Beaty with 7 points.

Y JUNIOR LEAGUE

The Celtics continued their drive for the first half championship of the Y junior basketball league with a 49 to 46 win over the Warriors during the week. Bonavita, Crump and Wilson paced the winners with 12 points each. Gallagher's 16 markers were high for the Warriors.

The Knicks knocked off the Warriors, 53 to 37, in the same loop. McCarthy of the Knicks and Massa of the Warriors were the game's top scorers with 12 points each.

YMCA CITY LEAGUE

The Y-Five copped the first half championship of the Y City basketball loop with an 82 to 80 win over runner-up G. G. Greenes. The champions came from six points behind at the start of the final quarter to win the game and the championship. Ed Rickerson paced the winners with 29 points and Bob Reese dumped in 27 points for Greenes.

Greenes, who led the flag race most of the first half, lost their last four games, including two games to the Y-Five, while the champions were victorious in their final five games.

In other league activity, the K. of C. whipped Guiffres, 64 to 56, behind the 15 point performance of Ed Lindberg. Bob Wolfe connected on three foul shots in the last 10 seconds of play to lead the K. of C. to a 63 to 60 verdict over Greenes. Wolfe and Ed Lindberg had 20 points for the Knights and Steve Lindquist collected 20 markers for Greenes.

The Y-Five blasted Guiffres, 69 to 59, early in the week. Rickerson had 28 points for the Y-Five and Dick Danielson hit 18 for Guiffres.

IRVINE GUNNERS BEATEN

A Bradford rifle team downed the Irvine Rod and Gun Club rifle team 961 to 952 in a Warren-McKean County Rifle League contest fired on the Warren Armory range last Saturday night.

Bradford posted four scores in the 190 bracket and the Irvine shooters were never able to overcome the lead. Bob Newman was top trigger-squeezer for the Irvine club with a score of 193. Dick Gedding, Bradford, was high scorer for the night, posting a 195 out of a possible 200.

WILL ENTER GOLDEN GLOVES

Tom Gerarde, Warren light heavyweight, will enter the Golden Gloves tournament in Pittsburgh starting February 10. Funds are being raised in Warren to finance his trip to the amateur tournament.

SIGNS CONTRACT

Reuben C. "Rabbit" Swanson signed his 1958 contract Saturday as a scout for the Cleveland Indians baseball club. It marks his eighth year with the system.

In 1957 Swanson signed up Dave Markey, of Buffalo, N.Y., and Ed Rickerson, of Warren.

WHS GRAPPLERS DOWN ST. MARYS AND TITUSVILLE

Blue and White wrestlers turned back teams from St. Marys and Titusville during the past week for their second and third wins of the 1957-58 season.

In their first go of the week, the matmen blasted St. Marys, 41 to 8, with Warren wrestlers recording 7 pins and one draw. First period pins were turned in by Larry Campbell, 103 lb.; Gail Page, 120 lb.; Ray Kane, 127 lb.; and Denny Flatt, 138 lb. Tom Valone, 112 lb.; John Mead, 154 lb.; and Jim Olson, 165 lb.; also pinned their opponents. Jim Johnson, 95 lb., drew with his foe.

The Dragons turned back Titusville, 26 to 19, in a contest that was not decided until the last match of the night. Going into the 185 lb. match, the Blue and White led the Rockets, 20 to 19. The night's affair was then settled quickly when Ron Bowen showed his opponents the ceiling lights of Beaty gym in 18 seconds of the first period.

Gail Page, 120 lb., turned in the Dragons only other fall of the night. Decision winners for Warren were Tom Valone, 112 lb.; John Colvin, 127 lb.; Jim Tinelli, 133 lb.; Denny Flatt, 145 lb.; and Jay Benze, 154 lb.

DRAGON CAGERS EARN TWO WINS DURING WEEK

Warren High School cagers rolled into high gear during the week and downed Corry, 56 to 49, to remain in a two-way tie for top position in Section II, District 10, and surprised Bradford, 37 to 31, on the Owls home court.

The Dragons played a tight man-to-man defense and, with good ball control while on the offensive, outmaneuvered the Owls sliding zone defense to win the low scoring contest. The Blue and White blanked the Bradford quintet in the last two minutes of play while scoring five points themselves to wrap up the mild upset.

The loss was Bradford's first in two years on their home court and marked the first time a Warren team has won at Bradford in ten years.

Scoring was evenly divided among five Dragon performers. Nicky Creola paced the attack with 10 points, followed by Bill Brumagim with 8, Nick Monroe with 7, and Mike Cashman, moved up from the junior varsity for the contest, and Don McKelvy with 6. Jack Karkosky and Mark Peterson, out of action with a bad ankle and after effects of a cold, viewed the game from the bench.

The Blue and White started strongly at Corry Friday and out-funneled their hosts 19 to 2 in the first period. The bench carried the action to the Beavers in the second quarter and outscored them. A cover over the Warren basket in the third frame was lifted enough in the final period for the Dragons to capture their second straight Section II, District 10 win and remain at the top of the heap.

Jack Karkosky led Warren scorers with 22 points, 11 of which he garnered in the first frame when the Dragons pressed Corry and stole the ball for easy lay-ups on many occasions.

JAYVEES CLOBBER CORRY, FALL BEFORE BRADFORD FIVE

The Warren High School junior varsity split in its week's activity and brought its season slate to 7 wins and 2 setbacks.

The reserves clobbered a Corry junior varsity team, 48 to 17, on Friday night. The Dragons built up a 25 to 8 halftime bulge and continued to dominate play in the second half. Doug Lind with 14 points and Ross Kremer with 10 points were the top scorers.

Bradford's junior varsity trampled the junior Dragons, 53 to 30, Tuesday night. The young Owls outscored the Blue and White in every frame. Pete Ostergard with 8 and Doug Lind with 7 paced the Dragon attack.

GRA-Y ACTIVITY

East and McClintock moved into a three-way deadlock for first place with North Warren in the race for the second half crown of the Gra-Y loop with wins during the week. The first half champs were idle.

East Street clubbed Sugar Grove, 37 to 15. Lawton paced East with 16 points and Stewart was high for Sugar Grove with 8 markers.

McClintock out-gunned Home Street, 44 to 6. Johnson paced the McClintock attack with 13 points. Home Street scoring was evenly divided among three players, B. Tudor, P. Tudor and Sargent.

In the only other Gra-Y game, Jefferson bumped Lacy-South, 34 to 15. Smith of Jefferson and Thompson of Lacy-South led their teams with 8 markers.

CHURCH LEAGUE - JUNIORS

Holy Redeemer and St. Joseph's continued unbeaten in league play. Both have won twice.

Holy Redeemer turned back Grace Methodist, 39 to 21. Miller paced Holy Redeemer with 11 and Bill Berdine racked up 12 points for Grace Methodist.

St. Joseph's blasted First Lutheran #1, 82 to 13. Bonavita scored 30 for the winners and Haer led the Lutherans with 11.

First Lutheran #2 turned in their first win of the season with a 59 to 29 decision over St. Paul's Lutheran. Peterson paced the winners with 22 markers.

CHURCH LEAGUE - SENIORS

Second place Grace Methodist #2 bumped off previously unbeaten Grace Methodist #1, 59 to 46. The loss was the first for the league leaders. Dick Kyler paced the winners with 16 points and Jim Ostergard scored 16 points for the league leaders.

Despite a slow start in the first quarter, First Baptist turned back First Presbyterian, 57 to 51. Dick Terry collected 19 points for the Baptists and Larry Lawton hooped 13 counters for the Presbyterians.

St. Joseph's walloped First Methodist, 73 to 23. Sharp was high man for the winners with 21 points and D. Arnold collected 7 points for the Methodists.

Grace Methodist #2 bounced First Presbyterian, 33 to 21. Bob Haslet led the Methodist attack with 14 points and Russell Rudolph and Larry Lawton each dumped in 7 points for the Presbyterians.

Grace Methodist #1 blasted First Methodist, 60 to 40. Tom Africa of First Methodist and Jim Ostergard of Grace Methodist were the night's top point collectors with 21 each.

OUTDOORS

KEEP YOUR DISTANCE, BOY

A game warden in Clearfield found an uncooperative Amazon in the fields of his domain last fall. When asked to show her license she raised her rifle and told him to keep away. He did, but he also recognized her. She later was arrested and fined $100 for using a threat and menace to resist inspection, as per the law. Her license? It was in order.

SPEAR 'EM FIRST

A deer hunter in Berks county went afield during archery season and let fly a feathered shaft at a light-footed buck. The arrow came down in the buck's back. A limb broke it off, and the deer went away from there with the point in its hide.

Came the regular season, and you guessed it. The hunter went afield again, gun in hand, and there he shot a buck. In the buck's back was an arrow head... the hunter's arrow head and an inch and a half of homemade shaft.

But this is not the end. The deer hit with the arrow had four points. The deer shot with the rifle had seven. The archery had been performed in 1956. The rifle was used in 1957.

Try that on your bow and musket some time.

GOOD YEAR FOR MADNESS

Mad dogs, cows, and such things as skunks were not so prolific last year. In fact there were less cases of rabies in 1957 than in any of the sixty-three years that the Department of Agriculture has operated. The number was 21. The year before it was 99. Nine of these were wild animals. The other twelve were domestics.

Three were foxes in Berks county, two were foxes in Chester and Lancaster counties. Four skunks went mad in Snyder county. Which is not too surprising. All of us, even skunks, have to live with ourselves.

The domesticated animals with rabies were five dogs, two cats, three cows, and two horses.

SET BOUNTY PAYMENTS

The Pennsylvania Game Commission has established bounty rates for 1958, effective June 1. Four dollars will be paid for gray and red foxes. The reward is five dollars for each great-horned owl, adult or fledgling, and applies in all months except November and December, and during the small game season.

THE SECOND in a series of sales training programs was sponsored last week by the DeLuxe Metal Furniture company.

The program is to continue throughout the year, three days of every month.

SOBS AND SNIFFLES

If you haven't troubles and heart-ches enough of your own, if there aren't enough problems in your neighborhood to rubberneck over, you can always turn on "End of the Rainbow" which is Ralph Edwards' latest and weepiest giveaway show (NBC-TV 10 p.m. EST Saturdays) and blubber away to your heart's content.

Edwards first tried out this idea "Truth or Consequences" where "This Is Your Life" also was shown. A druggist on the verge of losing his business through floods and assorted calamities was lured out of town. When he got back, the store was completely done over and restocked and, of course, there were Edwards and the cameras all ready to register his happy surprise.

That essentially is what "End of the Rainbow" is all about. People whose lives have been insupportably dreary and harsh and who have been real stiff-upper-lip about come home one day to find, not Edwards who is too busy on his other shows, but a white-haired and hearty named Art Baker who dispenses alms with the bluff and her cold efficiency of a soup kitchen. The first victims were a couple named Sam and Minnie Icke as a result of various catastrophes were raising all eight of their grandchildren in a little house in St. Louis.

SPEEDY Jack Karkosky goes up for two counters against the Corry Beavers in last Friday night's action.

The couple was tricked in front of the cameras, which were out of doors in a suburb of St. Louis, with about half the neighborhood watching. "They have no idea what is in store for them," cried Baker. "Do you know what this is all about?" (This to the couple) "You're on a national television network. Your dreams are about to come true."

The Ickes looked properly dumbfounded; Mr. Ickes dabbed away at his eyes; the children stared at Mr. Baker, who has a manner strongly reminiscent of a sideshow barker, intoned: "Our rainbow workers found out that in opening your arms to the love and care of others, your savings have dwindled. A pleasant home in the suburbs seems an impossible dream. But everyone knows miracles happen. Think of your fondest dreams for one whole minute."

While the Ickes thought of their fondest dreams for one whole minute, there was a commercial for a freedom-from-pain pill. After that, Baker signalled for a big curtain to be pulled aside and there was a suburban ranch house which I guess the Ickes had been dreaming about for years. At any rate, Icke moaned: "Oh, no!" and straightaway fell into his wife's arms, dabbing at his eyes and murmuring "I can't believe it."

These small piteous sounds of gratitude make up much of the show and to make sure there are plenty of them Baker kept thrusting gifts upon them -- the Jim Dandy gym set, the television, the $1,000 gift certificate, the paid-up insurance policy in Blue Cross. Mr. Icke moaned appropriately at each. Mrs. Icke, being of sterner stuff, simply smiled.

I suppose I'm an old curmudgeon but the new house looked awfully new and unlined in and--well-uninhabitable, especially for children, and the old one, scruffy around the edges though it was, seemed much pleasanter, but I suppose it's un-American of me to notice such things.

The second show was devoted to a crippled woman named Mary Dobkin who vowed as a child: "If God is good enough to let me live to be a grown-up, I'll devote my whole life to helping children." So she started a children's club in Baltimore which ran largely on ingenuity and pluck without anything resembling money.

But then along came the rainbow (which Mr. Edwards has promised may surprise any one of us who has been worthy of it in our home or our offices) and Miss Dobkin was showered with a fully-equipped clubhouse, baseball uniforms for all, a wagon, a boxing ring, the hi-fi set, the movie projector and the other paraphernalia all modern children need. None of them will ever need any ingenuity or any pluck again -- thanks to Ralph Edwards and NBC. Miss Dobkin snivelled and choked and sobbed her gratitude for the whole half hour. She did seem real pleased and so did the children who will use all that equipment. It's only me and my tired blood that find the whole thing pretty nauseating when done on a national network.
